

Albishorn - Imaginary Vintage®

Welcome to Albishorn, the independent Swiss watchmaker that builds vintage watches that never were.

We create original and unique mechanical timepieces that can be seen as “missing links”. They fit seamlessly into the history of watchmaking but clearly have a character of their own. We create what we call “imaginary vintage” watches.

Ever wondered about the fictional forerunner of the renowned “Type 20” chronograph used by the French military? Meet the “Type 10”, a creation of our fantasy at Albishorn (coming in October 2024)!

This approach reflects our primary commitment to creativity and imagination. We identify designs and concepts that could have perfectly complemented classic watches of the past but were never brought to life. What about a chronograph that marries the elegant appearance of a skin diver to a novel and patented regatta display? We have pioneered this new genre with the Marinagraph®, making it the perfect companion for maritime adventures (coming in 2025).

Sébastien Chaulmontet, Albishorn's head, shares: "I love searching for one-of-a-kind watches, prototypes, and those that challenge conventions – a homage to the endless creativity of our watchmaking ancestors. These elusive timepieces often unveil glimpses of what could have been. They fuel my imagination and make me dream of timepieces that I would have loved to exist but were never actually made. Albishorn is committed to create these unique watches."

Upholding Swiss craftsmanship in La Chaux-de-Fonds, Switzerland, our skilled team blends tradition with innovation. Albishorn ensures the highest Swiss quality standards, using premium materials to create watches that are not only beautifully designed but also reliable companions for generations.

Each Albishorn timepiece captures the spirit of a bygone era, mirroring the charm and details of vintage watches while embracing modern watchmaking technology. We actively pursue original dial layouts and displays, complemented by our distinctive proprietary mechanical calibers. These movements often showcase patented complications, further enhancing the uniqueness of our watches.

Step into the world of Albishorn and join us on a horological journey. Discover watches that complement vintage history, enhancing your collection with unique pieces that transcend time.

We hope that you will enjoy wearing our watches as much as we did making them.
